Tapes Decision May Not Come Until October

WASHINGTON (AP) — It could be the end of October, or later, before there is a final court decision on whether President Nixon must release White House tapes to a federal grand jury and it is unlikely any indictments will be issued until then.

And, if the court battle goes beyond Dec. 5, the term of the grand jury investigating the break-in and cover-up would expire. There is no way of extending it under the rules of procedure for the federal courts.

The prosecutors could be forced to go ahead without the tapes or face the prospect of having to introduce a new panel to the complex case.

U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica has promised to have his decision on the tapes by Wednesday. But there still would remain the time-consuming written and oral arguments before the Court of Appeals and then the Supreme Court before a final decision.

According to many forecasts, it could be near the end of October before a decision would come from the Supreme Court.

The possibility that it could take even longer led Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox to appeal in his brief for quick action.

Cox said time would be needed after the evidence was received to pursue leads and "also for adequate deliberation."

He also wrote that it would be "of questionable propriety" for the grand jury to vote whether to return indictments prior to receipt of the evidence sought.

Cox also must know whether the tapes would or would not be available to defendants and their counsel before the indictments are drawn up.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1963 that the government must provide defense counsel with any material in its possession that might tend to show the innocence of the defendant.

Appearing Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" presidential adviser Melvin R. Laird was asked about an earlier statement in which he said Nixon should release the tapes and whether he still felt that way.

"No, I am supporting his position and I believe the judicial branch should make this determination," Laird said.

"It has been presented to the courts, and my advice ... was political advice and it did not take into consideration the over-all legal requirements," he said.

Heavy Fighting Explodes Near Cambodian Capital

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Communist-led insurgents pushed closer to Phnom Penh today, cutting the capital's highway to the sea again at a point 15 miles from the city.

The fighting for control of Highways 4 and 5, the country's major supply lines, was the heaviest since the end of U.S. bombing 12 days ago. Battles were reported at several spots along both routes.

In the closest major clash, Khmer Rouge rebel forces surrounded a company of government troops a half mile from Ang Snuol on Highway 4, about 15 miles west of Phnom Penh. A civilian vehicle was ambushed and two persons were killed and another was wounded.

Highway 4 connects Phnom Penh with Kompong Som, Cambodia's only deepwater seaport, from which supplies flow into the capital city.

Highway 4 and Highway 5, which connects Phnom Penh to the rice-growing Province of Battambang to the northwest, were cut Sunday for the first time in nearly two months.

"Fighting is reported on the principal routes during the last 24 hours," said Col. Am Rong, the government's chief military spokesman. "The enemy is trying to create some difficulty by stopping supplies to Phnom Penh."

The cutting of the two highways left Mekong river convoys from Saigon as Phnom Penh's only sources of supply.

The spokesman said both highways were cut at points where they are crossed by the insurgents' supply corridors. He said the Khmer Rouge and their North Vietnamese allies were trying to keep their own routes open so they could supply their forces in the southern part of the country before the monsoons in mid-September.

On the political front, Prince Sisowath Sirik Matak, one of the leaders of the 1970 coup that overthrew his cousin Prince Norodom Sihanouk, called on Sihanouk to help stop the war in Cambodia by admitting that he alone was responsible for the fall of the monarchy and for the involvement of Cambodia in the Vietnam war.

He made public a six-page open letter to Sihanouk in which he accused him of collaborating with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong from 1966 until he was deposed and of selling out to the Chinese and North Vietnamese.

Meanwhile, in Saigon the South Vietnamese government claimed a record 93.4 per cent voter turnout for senatorial elections Sunday. As expected, returns showed two slates aligned with President Nguyen Van Thieu winning overwhelmingly.

Thirty of the 60 senate seats were to be filled by the election. The two 15-man pro-Thieu tickets were leading by margins of up to 10 to 1 in returns from all but eight of the country's 44 provinces and six municipalities.

A government spokesman said there were six attempts by the Viet Cong to disrupt the voting, less than expected. He reported eight persons killed.

Swedish Gunman Retains Hostages

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The besieged gunman holding four hostages in a locked bank vault told police early today that he had tied them to the walls. He said that if anesthetizing gas were pumped in they would strangle when they lost consciousness.

Police immediately suspended operations to capture the gunman and a convicted murderer with him and free the three young women and a man taken hostage last Thursday.

The police agreed to a truce until 9 a.m. EDT, lowered sandwiches and drinking water through an opening they had drilled in the ceiling of the vault, and withdrew their forces from the area. They gave no indication what they would do when the truce ended.

"We would not like to see these young people hanged, that's why we agreed to a truce," said Police Chief Curt Lindroth.

"We are dealing with an inhuman being who does not hesitate at anything. We could hear the girls plead for their lives. Their despair was genuine."

Police began drilling through the ceiling of the 19-by-40-foot vault Sunday night in apparent preparation for the gas attack. The gunman fired one shot into the vault's ventilator drum during the drilling, but nobody was hit.

The police had been trying to starve the gunman out since the six were locked in the vault on Saturday. Police had refused them food, water or a portable toilet.

The gunman told police Sunday he had burned about half of the $650,000 ransom paid him last week. Apparently this was in response to the suggestion of a reporter in a telephone interview with the man that he burn the money as a symbolic protest against prison conditions.

The man was also promised safe passage out of Sweden if he released the hostages, but he insisted on taking two of them with him.

The drama began Thursday when police interrupted the gunman while he was robbing the bank in downtown Stockholm. One policeman was wounded in the hand by the robber, who was armed with a submachine gun and carried more than a pound of explosives.

He holed up in the bank with the three women and one man as hostages. The gunman then ordered that Clark Olofsson be brought to the bank. He is a convicted bank robber and police killer who escaped from prison twice and last month unsuccessfully tried to blast his way out with dynamite.

The police at first identified the gunman as Kaj Hansson, a 21-year-old escaped convict, but he turned up in Honolulu. Reliable sources said the man was a 32-year-old safecracker who escaped from prison on Aug. 2.

Plane Crash Kills 36

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — A Colombian airliner with 36 persons aboard crashed into the hills surrounding Bogota today, and authorities said apparently there were no survivors.

focused on newspapers, some of which have run low on newsprint because of paper mill and railroad strikes in Canada. But increasingly tight situations also are being reported in a wide variety of other paper products.

A Los Angeles maker of bags and wrapping paper reports it is able to buy only 60 to 70 per cent of the paper it needs. A Bridgeport, Conn., grocery store says it is running out of paper bags. Gulf Oil Corp. says it finds suppliers are reluctant to bid on large orders of business forms.

In Washington, D.C., the General Services Administration reports that paper inventories are short millions of pounds.

An emergency procurement system based on national security priorities has been invoked "seven or eight times" in the recent past to supply paper to the Department of Defense, the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, a GSA spokesman said.

California Banks Face Foreign Competition

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A new car buyer in California often can get a lower interest rate at a bank with headquarters in Tokyo, Hong Kong or Montreal than at one based in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

California's small and medium-sized banks are feeling the pinch of such foreign competition and are beginning to fight back. And that fight has plunged the California legislature into the world of international finance.

Thirteen foreign-based banks have California subsidiaries. They compete vigorously for customers by offering a full range of retail banking services, including low-interest loans.

Deposits in their California vaults have grown from $514 million six years ago to $1.6 billion this year. Telephone book listings include the Bank of Tokyo, Sumitomo Bank of California, Hong Kong Bank of California, Bank of Montreal and California Canadian Bank.

The legislative battle has pitted the state's big banks, including the giant Bank of America, against the smaller independent banks.

The battle revolves around two bills designed to stem the growth of foreign banking in the state.

One measure would prohibit any new foreign banks from entering the California market unless their home countries gave California banks the same privileges. It is awaiting a first hearing in the Senate Insurance and Financial Institutions Committee.

A similar bill that has passed the Assembly and is before the Senate committee would prohibit the establishment in California of any more foreign banks that are affiliated with any commercial or industrial businesses.

The foreign banks have hired some high-priced law firms to fight the legislation.

The larger California banks with extensive foreign interests — primarily Bank of America and Wells Fargo Bank — also are fighting the bills. They argue that foreign firms are more likely to buy California products if they have home-country bank outlets here.

The larger banks also fear that countries in which they operate, especially Japan, will retaliate with similar restrictions.

But Michael Rafton, president and chairman of the Central Bank headquartered in Oakland, said foreign banks have an unfair advantage because they have a greater freedom to operate than do their domestic competitors. They are not covered, for instance, by a federal law that prohibits U.S. banks from engaging in nonbanking activities such as industrial production.

Rafton said the foreign banks are able to offer lower-interest loans for such consumer goods as autos and television sets because they are "tied in with huge conglomerates that can shift funds around to undercut domestic interest rates. They can play in our ball park, but we can't play in theirs," he said.

Nixon Relaxes With Drives Along California Freeways

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Three times in three days last week, the Coast Guard sentry snapped to attention with a brisk salute as an ordinary-looking sedan approached.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, President Nixon went out through the gate of the Western White House, seeking relaxation by cruising on California's busy freeways.

The President doesn't do the driving. At the wheel of the latest excursions was either a Secret Service man or Nixon's Florida friend and neighbor, C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

Rebozo, who left Saturday after spending five days with Nixon at his oceanside estate, completed several years ago the driving course the Secret Service gives agents who drive the President's car.

After leaving the closely guarded compound, Nixon's car pulled onto nearby Interstate 5, a six-to-eight-lane freeway linking Los Angeles with San Diego.

The sedan, specially equipped with radio telephones but otherwise

New State Airplane Replaces Old Craft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state has a new six-passenger, twin-engine airplane to replace its 17-year-old plane used to carry officials around the state.

Reported cost of the new King Air was nearly $500,000. The old plane was traded in for the new plane, officials said.

Boys And Girls In Service

Cadet Has Slone Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marie Conley, Commerical Point, and Cadet Guy G. Cline Jr., 110 Park St., received practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps. advanced summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., June 9 to July 20.

HAS SLONE JR.

Cadet Slone, 1972 graduate of Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky., and Cadet Cline, student at Ohio State University, were two of 7,200 students attending Army ROTC training at five installations in the U.S.

The ROTC advanced camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop and demonstrate leadership capabilities in a field training environment. The instruction supplements theories and concepts which cadets learned in the classroom on campus.

Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years. This enables them to better comprehend their final year of classroom work and to function as cadet leaders on campus.

Cadet Slone's wife, Betsy, resides in Morehead, Ky.

Airman Donn E. Struckman, son of Mary L. Struckman, Rt. 2, Ashville, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Struckman, son of Harold Struckman, Rt. 2, Circleville, is being assigned to Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The airman is a 1971 graduate of Teays Valley High School.

Airman Roger D. Cornell, son of Mrs. Mildred L. Burchfield of Rt. 3 Orient, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who learned to maintain and service multi-engine jet aircraft, is being assigned to Lockbourne AFB, for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Cornell is a 1972 graduate of Westfall High School.

Army Staff Sergeant Bryan R. Cupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cupp Jr., Route 1, New Holland, was presented the good conduct medal at Ft. Hood, Tex.

The medal, established in 1941, is awarded on a selective basis for those who distinguish themselves from among their fellow military personnel through exemplary conduct, efficiency and fidelity during their active military service.

Sgt. Cupp received the award while assigned as a tank crewman in Company A, 1st Battalion of the 1st Cavalry Division's 81st Armor at Ft. Hood, Tex.

The 1st Cavalry Division, with a record of distinguished combat action since the days of the mounted trooper, was the first U.S. Army division to be organized under the Airmobile concept.

After service in Viet Nam, its colors were returned to Ft. Hood, Tex., in May 1971 and the division has undergone yet another reorganization. It is now the 1st Cavalry Division (Tricap).

Tricap stands for the Triple Capabilities of Major Maneuver Elements Of Armor, Airmobile Infantry, and Air Cavalry. The division is now composed of three brigades, one for each capability, together with artillery and support units.

Combining the knock-out power of armor, the maneuverability of Airmobile Infantry and the firepower of Air Cavalry is believed to have unlimited tactical possibilities. The division is testing the experimental concept at Ft. Hood.

His wife, Janet, lives in Killeen, Tex.

Airman Thomas C. McConahay, son of Mrs. Dorothy McConahay of Rt. 1, Ashville, has graduated at Lackland AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force security policeman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained in security and law enforcement, is being assigned to K.I. Sawyer AFB, Mich., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

U.S. Air Force Colonel (Dr.) E. Rodman Heine, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter F. Heine, 365 Meadow Lane, has arrived at Tyndall AFB, Fla., for duty as commander of the USAF hospital.

Colonel Heine served as commander of the USAF dispensary at Loring AFB, Maine, prior to his assignment at Tyndall.

A 1947 graduate of Circleville High School, he received a B.A. degree in 1951 from Ohio Wesleyan University and earned an M.D. degree in 1955 at Harvard Medical School, Boston.

He also earned a master's degree in public health at Harvard School of Public Health.

His wife, Deborah, is the daughter of Mrs. Miriam S. Dodge, Exeter, N.H.

Real Estate Agents

Given Help By Solon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Don Maddux, D-90 Lancaster, says he'll ask the legislature next week to pass a bill to protect about 4,000 real estate agents from the possible loss of their licenses.

Maddux said those agents who received their licenses between August 1971 and January 1972 face the loss if they don't complete class work by next month.

It was originally assumed by the agents that old educational requirements were in effect for them. But recently it was discovered that legislation changing the requirements was apparently in force at the time.

Expect Flood Of Vet Job-Seekers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Veterans' representatives are bracing themselves for a boom in the number of disabled Ohio vets looking for jobs. "Earlier, it was just a dribble of men being released from hospitals," said Victor W. Smith, representative for Veterans Employment Services in Ohio.

Jobs were found for 1,266 of 6,715 handicapped Vietnam era veterans who applied for jobs in fiscal 1973, Smith said. "The handicapped problem was a big one, now it is emphasized even more," he said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Should Mom Tell Kids?

DEAR ABBY: What do you tell your children when they ask how long you have been married, and you are ashamed to tell them? When I was married I was three months pregnant. We had gone together for two years. We loved each other, and it just happened.

We were married as soon as possible, and now have five lovely children. The oldest is 14. My husband and I never celebrate our wedding anniversary. We just don't talk about it.

Lately, our 14-year-old asked us when our anniversary is. I said "in December" and changed the subject. I don't know how long I can go on doing this.

My husband says we should add on a year. Would this be right? Other people know how long we've been married, and I don't want my children to catch me in a lie when I preach them the importance of being honest. But Abby, I want my children to respect me, and if they knew the truth it may not set a good example for them. Please tell me what to do. Thank you.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I can best answer you by submitting this exchange:

DEAR ABBY: I was born six months and two days after my parents were married. (I figured it out when I was 16.) When I mentioned it to my mother she became flustered and close to tears so I never mentioned it again.

Mom and Dad are tops as parents, and I don't care if they did have to get married, I love them just the same.

Abby, you could help a lot of people who had to get married if you would tell them how to handle it when their children bring it up.

Should they lie about the date of their marriage? Or should they say the first baby was "premature"? What's the best answer?

THEIR DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: The truth, while sometimes embarrassing, is always the best answer. But no couple HAS to get married. The boy can run off and leave the girl to face the problem alone. Or he can deny paternity.

Some girls choose abortion. Others prefer to have the child, and put it up for adoption. Some have the child and keep it.

The couple who marries when a baby is on the way, and make a success of that marriage (and there are many) deserve respect and understanding.

DEAR ABBY: You stated that a couple could be married by a ship's captain. Whoops! Not any more. They used to be, when voyages lasted months and sometimes years, but times have changed, and so have the rules. Marriages performed by captains at sea will legalize a union while the couple is at sea, but when they reach land, they must be remarried.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

DEAR VOICE: Thanks. I am presently over my head in letters from readers who advise me of the change. Mea culpa.

DEAR ABBY: Here is my solution for that artist who found it hard to paint outdoors (landscapes, etc.) because he always drew a crowd who watched him and sometimes made remarks which distracted him.

I also enjoy painting landscapes. I don't object to a few spectators, but when it gets too chatty, I simply remove my hat and pass it.

I rarely get more than a few coins, but it sure thins out the crowd in a hurry.

The Veterans Administration predicts about 12,800 disabled vets, expected to be released from hospitals in the next year will apply for jobs in Ohio in fiscal 1974.

So Smith's office is launching a "Hire the Handicapped Vet Week" for Oct. 7-13. "Give him a right to bare arms" is the slogan.

Smith admitted his job won't be easy. The nature of the veteran's disability, naturally, limits the kind of job he can do.

Jerry Caplan (not his real name) has a B.A. in mathematics. A veteran of Vietnam, Jerry became neurotic and extremely introverted.

"We had to set up the interviews and practically lead him by the hand to them. He just wouldn't talk to people," said John Marshall, a veterans representative in Columbus.

Ohio Bell Applies For Sale Approval

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. says it has applied to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio for permission to issue $200 million worth of debt securities in late October.

The company said the funds would be used for capital construction.

Ohio Bell last authorized debt securities sales in October 1971, when the firm sold $100 million worth of 7.6 per cent debentures and $50 million in 6.5 per cent notes.

representative in Columbus. Jerry is now employed in the testing division of a Goodwill office. Sometimes the job has to be modified.

Kyle Jeffers (also a pseudonym) is blind. He had to develop a keen memory to get a job as a dispatcher. His employer put in a tape recorder so Kyle wouldn't have to keep written records of dispatches.

Smith said there is a moral obligation to hire a handicapped veteran. "But it's also good business practice," he said.

"Absenteeism is way below the average worker. They take their jobs very seriously. If they lose that job, they know they are going to have a hard time of it," he said.

But despite the stepped-up move to get jobs for handicapped, Smith emphasized, "We haven't and we won't shut the door on other veterans looking for jobs."

Seeking Money Stability

As the Committee of 20, an agency of the International Monetary Fund, seeks to find a way out of the recurring currency crisis, it will be mindful of the recent announcement that the United States has been buying U.S. dollars with reserve currencies in an effort to stabilize the dollar. Such a move telegraphs a fear of another dollar devaluation.

The Committee of 20 is a new body, only one year old, composed of delegates from the 10 largest Western economic powers and 10 of the smaller developing countries. Its purpose is to work out currency policies to replace the fixed-rate system which collapsed last spring.

Whatever plan the committee agrees upon must be approved by the International Monetary Fund, whose 125 members will come together for their annual meeting in September. The committee is in the unenviable position of having to put together without delay a new plan to solve the world's currency problems and then sell it to the main body.

What path it may take now has not been revealed. From the long-standing fixed-rate system currency markets went to the current freer market of floating currencies. The Committee of 20's current option would seem to lie somewhere in between.

Forgiveness?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Some of the North Carolina delegates to the Young Americans for Freedom (YAF) convention in Washington told me that Senator Sam Ervin, master of the Senate's Watergate investigation circus, has lost a good deal of his old popularity in his home state. They could be prejudiced witnesses. On the other hand, the YAFers, whether from North Carolina or elsewhere, have no desire to justify the "White House horrors" that the Ervin committee has been exposing.

The whole response to the Watergate business becomes mired in a welter of subtle shadings. But one sure thing emerges: no consensus is going to be reached unless (or until) President Richard Nixon releases the relevant portion of those tapes and clears everything up. The very lack of consensus, of course, will enable the President to withhold the tapes, the Supreme Court willing, but it will be at the cost of most of the Nixon policies during the next three years.

The basic quarrel between conservative and liberal Republicans seems to be over what sort of penance or new performance should be asked of Nixon for the admitted sins of Watergate. The YAFers along with other conservative groups, would grant forgiveness if only Mr. Nixon would come out fighting for a truly conservative program. The Ripon Society Republicans—yes, they, too, have survived the Sixties in better shape than the Leftist Students for a Democratic Society—want the White House to abandon a "we-they" psychology. This comes clear in another voice from North Carolina, that of Robert D. Behn of Durham, chairman of the Ripon Forum's editorial board. But Mr. Behn begs one question. When Nixon acts in a "we-they" manner in chiding the Senate for undercutting his power to use the bombers in Cambodia to force Hanoi to live up to the peace terms, or when he tries to excise the abuses of OEO (Office of Economic Opportunity), it seems to me that this is legitimate political activity.

However, when Ripon, speaking through Robert Behn, asks Nixon to give ungrudging proof that he rejects what was done in the White House to sustain the dirty tricks of the Committee to Re-elect the President, it is on sounder ground.

Mr. Behn is under no illusions that dirty election campaign tricks and White House phone tapping and tape recording are anything new. If E. Howard Hunt and G. Gordon Liddy stole documents, so did Daniel Ellsberg; if CREP tried to listen in on McGovern staff secrets, someone in the Lyndon Johnson entourage stole Barry Goldwater speeches in advance of delivery. The disruptive pranks of Dick Tuck, who specialized in such things as signaling a railroad train to move while a Republican was still making a rear-platform speech, were funnier and less ugly than anything Donald Segretti tried to pull on Muskie, but the difference was of degree, not of kind. Even slander is an old election campaign technique (Warren Harding's alleged Negro blood, Grover Cleveland's illegitimate child, etc.).

Admitting most, if not all, of this, Mr. Behn still thinks the White House took "a quantum jump" in 1972 in the Dirty Tricks Department. What bothers him is that John Dean, with the tacit approval of Ehrlichman and Haldeman, worked "out of the White House" as "part of a program to maintain the power of an incumbent President."

Is this so absolutely new as to constitute a "quantum jump"? I asked

Mr. Behn if he would hold that Dean's activities differed from what the White House Democrats had done in 1944, when they did all they could to withhold information about Franklin Roosevelt's precarious health from the voting public. He seemed to think there was a qualitative difference. I am not so sure.

Nixon could help dissipate some of the "we-they" atmosphere by being more candid about what is in the tapes. But the Ervin Committee, when it reconvenes, could really prove that it has no partisan axe to grind if, when it comes to exposing dirty political practices, it were to extend its dragnet. If it's bugging and burglarizing that we wish to eradicate, a lot of things going back to 1936 both inside and outside the White House are relevant. Maybe there has been a "quantum jump" in dirty tricks under Nixon; maybe not. It's time we knew.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you like to go to a zoo, the chances are that you are more intelligent than someone who doesn't. And you probably earn more money. A recent study found that almost three-fourths of the zoo-going public had a high school education or better. Less than half of the nonzoo-goers did. The zoo buffs also had higher average incomes.

Women who have silicone fluid injected into their breasts to enlarge their bustline may pay a later price for their vanity. The fluid can migrate elsewhere in the body. In the case of one 22-year-old woman it collected in painful masses in her abdomen and had to be removed surgically.

Needles were one of the first tools invented by man which have remained in constant use through the centuries. They have been found in the ruins of all civilizations and peoples, from the Eskimos to the Zulus.

Animal crackers: We speak of a herd of deer, a pride of lions, a school of fish, a flight of doves, a skulk of foxes, a covey of quail, a pack of dogs, a muster of peacocks, a gaggle of geese, a bevy of beauties, a swarm of bees, a watch of nightingales, a host of men, a congregation of people, a slewth of bears, a clustering of beetles, and a flock of sheep. But what is a gathering of killer whales? Well, they travel in a family group called a pod.

Quotable notables: "Don't be unduly critical. Taking things seriously unless they are serious is a senile fault." — Gelett Burgess.

Durable banner: The flag of Denmark, a white cross on a red ground, is the oldest national flag in history. It has remained unchanged since the 13th century.

Tree treasures: Despite all the woodlands that have been cut for timber in this country, often wastefully, America still has 75 per cent as much forest area as existed when Columbus landed.

Forgotten firsts: In 1891 the first outdoor electric sign in the United States was erected here. It advertised Spencerian pens. The signs quickly became popular, and within 10 years the Times Square and Broadway area had been nicknamed "The Great White Way."

Worth remembering: "If we spent more time counting the blessings we have, we'd have less time to spend longing for the luxuries we don't need."

Division leaders of the Citizens committee of Circleville City Schools met at the High School.

The purpose of the session, according to Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, was to explain the school board proposals to the division leaders concerning the bond issue that was to appear in November of that year.

Estimated damage to property and motor vehicles involved in the 37 accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department during July was nearly $3,000.

Offices in Municipal Court were in turmoil. . . For the first time in several years the walls were receiving a badly needed coat of paint, and all office furniture was piled in the middle of the rooms.

The Pickaway County of Commission of Jurors drew names from the jury wheel for prospective jurors of the September session of the grand jury and petit juries.

Thirty names were drawn for the grand jury scheduled to meet the next month. A total of 96 names were listed for the petit juries to hear cases in Common Pleas Court. The list was to be in effect until the January term of the court.

Rubber In Cars Not All In Tires

ANKRON, OHIO (AP) — The auto industry will put a billion pounds of rubber parts in its cars in 1973 — not including their tires.

According to the Goodyear Co., the average car now has more than 600 rubber parts, together weighing over 150 pounds. This includes about 30 pounds of seat cushions and crash pads; 15 pounds of engine mounts, body insulators and bumper parts; more than 10 pounds of hose; and at least 95 pounds of rubber stripping, chunks, bits and pieces.

LAFF - A - DAY

"Gee, Elton — I don't know — I've only known you for twenty-two coffee breaks!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester I. Coleman, M.D.

In a column last week, I pointed out the injustice that can be done by over-enthusiastic and misinformed writers who exploit controversial topics in medicine.

For years, the tonsillectomy operation in children and the hysterectomy operation in women have been good subjects for such controversy. Yet both of these operations are beneficial to health when chosen with discrimination and good judgment.

The integrity of the surgeon must be accepted, or the total structure of the doctor-patient relationship must crumble. Outside threats to this relationship do the patient and the doctor a great injustice.

Let us inspect some of the factors that surround the tonsils, the adenoids, their value to health, and their threat to health when they become diseased.

The tonsils and adenoids are lymphoid tissue which is now acknowledged as playing an important role in the immunity against infections in infancy and early childhood.

But it is felt that protective mechanism can exhaust itself and, in fact, reverse this role by becoming a trouble-maker.

Then the tonsils and adenoids can be responsible for the repeated infections and complications for which their removal is suggested.

Many children past the age of 4, 5, and 6, spend their entire winters with intermittent sore throats, fever, enlarged glands and on a regime of antibiotics and gamma globulin injections. Many who enter kindergarten and their first year at school pick up every conceivable germ that they are exposed to and spend half of their time out of school, invalidated by infections.

What criteria do ear, nose and throat specialists have for the removal of tonsils and adenoids?

- 1) Repeated attacks of tonsillitis, with swelling of the tonsils and fever.
- 2) Tender, swollen glands along the side of the neck, associated with these infections.
- 3) Marked nasality of speech owing to enlarged adenoids.
- 4) Snoring at night because the adenoids prevent the free passage of air through the nose.
- 5) Pus and infection in the nose, persistent running nose.
- 6) Repeated ear infections as evidenced by pain in the ears.
- 7) Hearing loss, with or without the accumulation of fluid behind the eardrum. Because of long-sustained anti-biotic treatment, thick, gelatinous fluid of honey consistency collects behind the eardrums and interferes with the hearing mechanism.
- 8) Speech defects, especially those associated with nasality.

From the point of view of the ear, nose and throat specialist any one, or a combination of any of these problems, may be an indication for surgery.

Can the child outgrow these problems? Yes, they can in some instances. But more often, a greater injustice can be done to the child by waiting than there is by performing a tonsillectomy and an adenoidectomy.

When the surgeon, the pediatrician, and the general physician agree, benefits from this operation are invaluable to healthy development.

Business World

By JOSH FITZHUGH
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The record rise of interest rates this year has presented investors with a new and complex set of financial decisions.

Effective yields of 8, 9 and 10 per cent and sometimes higher dangle seductively these days before practically everybody with money in the stock market, or even the standard 5 1/2 per cent savings account.

But the investor has to answer some fundamental questions for himself before making a choice.

Take a hypothetical individual with a family, some money in growth stocks, and $20,000 in his passbook savings account.

He is pretty well informed on the basic workings of the stock market. He believes firmly in maintaining the $20,000 in savings as a cash reserve — in a safe and readily accessible place where it will be available for emergencies.

He's also keenly aware of inflation, and the toll it is taking on the purchasing power of the $20,000.

But, most likely, he's less familiar with the credit markets.

"Analysts say that the inverse yield curve current in the present market makes short-term fixed-income securities particularly attractive to cookie-jar savers," he reads in a newspaper financial story. "Such instruments as Treasury bills, commercial paper, agency issues, municipal notes and even corporate bonds are receiving increased attention."

At about that point, slightly mystified, he calls a broker at random — say, Henry Arbeeny, a fixed-income securities specialist at Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

There are many possible approaches, says Arbeeny. Do you want a short-term or a long-term investment? Does your tax bracket suggest taxable or tax-exempt income?

"The menu is large and confusing," he says. "Even some brokers haven't figured it all out."

One obviously attractive new possibility comes in the up to 8 per cent returns offered by many banks on federally insured four-year deposits since the government lifted the interest ceilings on those deposits.

But only 5 per cent of a bank's total deposits can go into those accounts, and by now many institutions are "sold out."

Additionally they reduce the accessibility of the money. If the money has to be withdrawn for an emergency before the four years have passed, the depositor's interest for the entire period of the deposit drops to the passbook level, and he is further penalized three months' interest.

Other fixed-income investments can also have their drawbacks, Arbeeny says — the trick is to have a clear definition of one's needs, and then to fit the investment to them.

For those in the 30 per cent income tax bracket and higher, he says, tax-exempt municipal bonds and notes represent the best potential return. Those under the 30 per cent bracket are likely to find their best return in taxable issues, with their higher pretax yields.

Long term or short? Long terms offer the alluring prospect of catching interest rates at a high and riding them well into the future, when rates may be much lower.

But, Arbeeny points out, the holder of a long-term security can suffer should he want or need to get his money out of it before it matures if the security's price has fallen since he bought it.

"If, at the time he invests, the investor is thinking that he may have to withdraw the money for some reason, he's far better off to stay with short terms," the broker observes.

The disadvantage of short-term securities, on the other hand, is that, even if bought at a time when interest rates are at a peak, they provide that high rate only for the few months before they mature. If rates come down in the meantime, the investor finds himself with money to invest and no further access to the peak rates prevailing earlier.

Newsprint Squeeze Watched Closely

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strikes against Canadian paper mills and railroads forced one Ohio daily newspaper to shut down for a day and threaten most others with cutbacks in their supply of white paper.

Hardest hit among Ohio newspapers appeared to be The Bellefontaine Examiner. For the first time in 82 years, the paper failed to publish Saturday.

"We've got two to three days' supply, and we decided that since Saturday is a light day, we'd lay off Saturday and come back Monday," said Publisher T. E. Hubbard.

He said the afternoon publication probably would close this week unless he is about to get paper trucked out of Canada.

"We're alert and being very cautious," reported Thomas R. Gormley, executive vice-president of the Cincinnati Enquirer. "The situation could become critical for the Enquirer if the Canadian rail strike is not settled next week, thus releasing supplies tied up in transit."

Frank R. Myers of the Middletown Journal said the newspaper was watching waste closely and trying "to squeeze the paper down where possible."

SALT CREEK GRANGE

Saltcreek Valley Grange members held the final meeting of the current grange year at the Cross Mound State Park near Tarlton with 28 members present.

This picnic-meeting closed the current year of grange activity in the county. The next meeting will be held on September 4, at the Saltcreek Elementary School when the officers for the year will be elected.

Serving as hosts for the September meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Orley Judy, and Mrs. Ray Mann.

The business meeting will begin at 8 p.m. followed by the social session.

The mail-order business has annual sales of some $45 billion.

Equal Rights Rally Held In Cincy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — "I don't mind the 'women's libber' label," said Judy Sidwell, president of the Cincinnati chapter of the National Organization of Women, but she said the tag is one of several catch-phrases used to fight equal rights for women.

The local NOW chapter led a rally of about 300 persons, including 19 other women's groups Sunday in celebrating the 53rd anniversary of women gaining the right to vote through the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

The rally, expected to be an annual affair, also promoted ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Ms. Sidwell, a commercial artist for a local machine tool firm, disputed reports that women's libbers burn bras. "That never happened," she declared.

"These are fringe things resulting from a bad press. It takes the emphasis away from the real issue — equal rights, equal pay, laws that discriminate against women."

"These are things that opponents use to discredit the movement," she said.

The rallies singled out Ohio AFL-CIO President Frank King as a leading opponent of the ERA. The women charged he actively lobbied to bottle up the amendment in an Ohio Senate committee after it was passed in the House.

For his efforts, they said, he was being presented with one of three "Giant Step Backwards" awards made Sunday.

"Cincinnati NOW," said Ms. Charlene Ventura, coordinator of the rally, "feels that Mr. King could find better things to do with his time, and with AFL-CIO funds, than to use women members' union dues to keep women in their place. Apparently, Mr. King thinks that the Equal Rights Amendment is some sort of management plot."

Others given the backward awards were the Cincinnati Fire Department for refusing to hire women as fire fighters and the Bankers Club, in Cincinnati, which refused to admit women before 4 p.m.

The Cincinnati Post and Times Star was commended for changing the name of its women's section to "People."

Ms. Ventura said she wasn't disappointed by the small crowd at the rally on Fountain Square Plaza. "We're not playing a numbers game. It's Sunday, not many come downtown. We held it today so our members who work or take care of families could make it."

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

It was a warm, humid night across Ohio. At daybreak, most temperatures were still in the 70s. Readings ranged from 69 at Zanesville to a muggy 76 at Mansfield. Skies were generally clear, although some fog formed in the valleys of southern Ohio.

High pressure firmly anchored over the southern Appalachians brought warm, humid air northward over Ohio and deflected the path of low pressure disturbances to the north across the northern Great Lakes, southern Canada and western New York toward New England.

Not much change is in store in the overall weather picture for the next few days. Relief from the sweltering heat is not likely before the middle or latter part of the week.

Gilligan Speaks To Indiana Demos At French Lick

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP) — Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan told Hoosier Democrats over the weekend that "other Watergates will occur" unless due process of law is applied to President Nixon and his associates.

Gilligan led the attack on the Nixon administration at the 93rd annual Indiana Democratic Editorial Association meeting here Saturday.

The Ohio governor told more than 400 persons at the meeting that Watergate should not be considered just another example of political corruption.

If this should happen, he warned, "We, the people, will have given up the reigns of our government to people who cynically violated their public trust."

'Missing' Family Located

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP) — A nationwide search for a Toledo, Ohio, family ended on a forest service road here Sunday when a Washington State Patrol officer located the Lawrence Zmudzinski family, the patrol said.

Trooper Bob Peterson located the family and their 12-year-old son Larry at a campsite 14 miles west of Wenatchee after a state highway department employee recognized the Ohio license plate of their 1964 Cadillac. Highway employee Don McKenzie had read a description of the car in a newspaper article, the patrol said.

The family left Toledo in June for Washington in their car which was equipped with a two-way radio. But Toledo relatives last heard from them in a post card from Mellen, Wis., postmarked July 4.

Subsequently, police launched a 10-day air and ground search when citizen band radio operators picked up transmissions from a boy saying he was trapped in an overturned pickup and his father was dead.

However, no trace of the boy was found and authorities have not ruled out the possibility it was a hoax.

The family voluntarily went into Wenatchee to talk to Chelan County sheriff Dick Nickells and state patrol authorities, the patrol said.

They have returned to their campsite. The patrol said the batteries in the families citizens band radio were dead and had been dead for some time.

Big Damage Suit Hits State Union

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Council 21, AFL-CIO, filed Friday a more than $1 million suit against the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association.

The action in Franklin County Common Pleas Court contended that a former state employee union director, along with the union's former president, conspired with the association's executive director "to seek and obtain confidential data, information and records of AFSCME."

The suit claimed that the meetings took place in January.

OAGC Annual Gardener's Day Meeting Planned

Mrs. Quentin Elder, second vice president, Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs has planned the annual state-wide Gardener's Day Out meeting for the gardeners of the association and their guests which will be held at the Don Scott Field, Ohio State University, on Sept. 13th. Mrs. Elder will be general chairman.

Serving as reservation chairman will be Mrs. Vance Hendricks, Route 1, Orient, Ohio 43146, and, deadline for submission of reservations will be Sept. 6th.

Since this meeting is being scheduled one week prior to the annual Farm Science Review, all exhibits will be in place for the gardeners to observe. As they are conducted about the 750 acre Review, they will view the latest developments in agricultural science and technology.

There will be 250 exhibits covering the latest techniques for yard, garden, and orchard plantings in outdoor recreation facilities and in new ideas for homemakers. Also planned will be a tour of the horticulture building, landscape gardens and flower plots, and, possibly the cannery will also be in operation. The noon-day meal will be a Beef Barbecue around the farm pond.

Program will begin at 9 a.m. with registration at Don Scott Field.

It is the hope of Mrs. Elder, Mrs. Thomas B. Wilson, Director, Region 9, and the presidents of the eight area garden clubs as well as Mrs. Charles Huston, Route 3, Circleville, Pickaway County Contact Chairman, that all garden clubs will be well represented at this informative outing. Mrs. Joseph Sheets of Route 1, Williamsport, is Regional Director-elect, shares the same enthusiasm with the other officers and feels that this meeting will be most worthwhile.

Localites Visit British Columbia

Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Caldwell have returned from a 15 day stay in West Vancouver, British Columbia, where they were guests of their son, Henry G. Caldwell and family.

They visited many points of interest in and around Vancouver including the restored area known as Gas Town, featuring shops of all description and native arts and crafts, Stanley Park, queen Elizabeth Arboretum and the Bloedel Conservatory, Park and Tilford, Botanical Garden, the University of British Columbia and Mt. Seymour Provincial Park, a local ski resort with an elevation of over 5,000 feet.

They drove to Squawish and Harrison Hot Springs, a popular convention resort and Horseshoe Bay, which was the site of the recent Salmon Derby where the winner received $25,000.

At Burnaby, British Columbia, they toured Heritage Village, an outdoor museum of the sights and sound of lower mainland British Columbia between 1890 and 1920.

They visited their grandson, Charles, who is serving as a counselor at the Little Frontier Dude Ranch on Yarrow Mountain, British Columbia.

A day was spent in Seattle and Bothell, Washington with their three granddaughters. Kathy recently graduated summa cum laude from the University of Washington with a BA degree in Psychology and English. She was invited to join Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity and will teach in a Junior High School on Bainbridge Island near Seattle.

Susan is taking some classes at the University while being employed. Lorie is studying Horticulture at Oregon State University at Corvallis, Ore. and is spending the summer in a large nursey working with plants and shrubs of all kinds.

RANGETOP SUPPER

Lamb patties, potatoes, spinach, tomato salad, fresh grapes and beverage.

LAMB PATTIES

Peanuts are a surprise ingredient.
2 pounds ground lamb
¾ cup chopped cocktail peanuts
2-3 cup finely chopped onion
½ cup soft bread crumbs
2 eggs
1 teaspoon ground coriander
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 ½ cups water
1 beef bouillon cube
2 tablespoons flour

Combine lamb, peanuts, onion, crumbs, eggs and seasonings in large mixer bowl. Beat at low speed until blended and smooth — about 1 minute. Shape into 12 patties about 1 inch thick. Place 6 patties in large skillet over medium heat; brown well on both sides; remove to platter; repeat with remaining patties. Pour off fat from skillet. Add 1 cup water and bouillon cube to skillet and stir over medium heat until bouillon cube is dissolved. Return patties to skillet; bring to a boil. Partially cover and cook over low heat for 30 minutes. Remove patties to heated serving platter and keep warm. Blend together remaining ½ cup water and the flour. Add to skillet and cook, stirring, until thickened and boiling. Pour over patties. Makes 6 servings.

Finely chopped apple and bits of bacon may be folded into pancake batter. Serve the pancakes with butter and maple syrup.

Pickaway Senior Citizens Visit Canal Boat Town

A 47 passenger bus with every seat filled, left Circleville at 9 a.m. Tuesday, bound for Roscoe Village, a restored canal boat town adjacent to Coshocton. The Pickaway Senior Citizens aboard the bus were heading for a unique experience in modes of travel — a ride on a canal boat.

Upon arrival at Roscoe Village, the passengers were greeted by a pleasant hostess, dressed in the fashion of the early 1800's. She directed them to the Warehouse Restaurant and to Captain Nye's Sweet Shop for lunch, and reminded everyone to return to the Town Hall at 1 p.m. for the start of the hour and one-half conducted tour.

This tour included a walk down the street of the old canal boat town, with another hostess in a long gown pointing out the restored Toll House Keeper, but which now houses a ladies boutique.

Other interesting buildings are the Craft House where the visitors watched wool being spun into yarn, and then woven into rugs on a 140 year old loom; wooden shingles were being made by hand; clay was being crafted into pots for jams and applebutter, wooden chains were being carved out of one piece of wood, etc.

The Williams House, a completely restored home was visited under the guidance of still another beautifully dressed young lady who explained in great detail just how the people of those days lived, what the strange utensils were used for, and how some of our common expressions of today originated from the customs of the times.

Some of the group rode in a horse drawn trolley car to visit the triple locks located at the east end of the town. These locks were necessary to lower the canal boats down to the level of the main canal from the feeder canal to the north. This is part of the Ohio Erie Canal system which ran from Cleveland south, through Akron, on down through Canal Fulton, Roscoe, and eventually through Circleville and down to Portsmouth. The entire trip was about 310 miles, took 80 hours and a one way ticket, including meals cost a passenger the magnificent sum of $1.70.

The canal has been partially dredged near Coshocton, and several years ago, a duplicate of the Monticello, a famous canal passenger boat, was built, and now passengers may have a 45 minute ride which is declared the smoothest ride in the land. Everyone agreed this was certainly true. The boat holds about 150 people and is drawn by two large Percheron horses who walk along the bank, appropriately called the "Tow Path." The speed is four miles per hour, scenery is lush green foliage on both sides, and one can scarcely realize that about 200 feet beyond, hundreds of cars are speeding long U.S. Route, 83, most people unaware of the peaceful ride being enjoyed by those aboard the Monticello II.

En route back to Circleville, the group ate dinner at the Kopper Kettle Cafeteria on the square in Cambridge, and then did some shopping at a new International Gift Shop just off the world's largest interchange, the one where 170 and 177 intersect, near Cambridge.

The following people made the trip: Mildred Hatfield, Ruth Portor, Merle Turner, Icy Winner, Mildred Brink, James Newland, Dulcie Sheppard, Ruth Shaffer, Golda Paxton, Charles Curlett.

Merle Collins, Martha Reid, Bertha Brown, Evelyn Montelius, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Yaple, Corilla Pontius, Edward Ray Beery, Viola Hartranft, Kathryn Wynkoop, Laura Rector, Virgil Six.

Bryon Downs, Ellen Camp, Bernice Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeLong, Doris Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Downs, Mary Bales, Blanche Kerns, Polly Jane Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Dunkle, Eunice Shy, Mr. and Mrs. Mark DeLong.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gentzel, Jenny Hoffman, Luella Lape, Frances Davis, Flossie Churchheus, and Joan Eller; Vera Saunders and Twyla Lorentz of the Senior Center staff as tour guides.

A busload will be taken to see the matinee performance of Holiday on Ice at the Fairgrounds Coliseum on Sept. 12th. The bus will leave the center at 3 p.m. Members interested in more information are invited to call the Pickaway Senior Center 474-4916 weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Reservations will be made on a first come basis. The bus will hold 44 and only one will be available.

Burglars Pinched By Meat Costs

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Even burglars, it seems, are pinched by the high cost of meat.

Thieves broke through a door at Immanuel Lutheran Church, removed a drill, saw and hammer from the basement workshop and used the tools to enter a locked office and crack a safe, from which they took $30.

Police said they also took some meat from the church kitchen.

Most cookies can be stored in the freezer for as long as six months.

U.S. Agents Face Charges

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Eight federal narcotics agents and four police officers have been indicted for illegal entry and the use of terrorist tactics in conducting no-knock drug raids on private residences last spring.

The indictments alleging 17 criminal acts also reveal previously unreported raids on two residences. The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury Friday.

Six private dwellings were entered without warrants or cause, the indictments charge. Other charges accuse the agents and policemen of depriving 11 persons of their civil rights, conspiracy to obstruct a criminal investigation and perjury.

All the accused were involved in a drive by the Justice Department's Drug Abuse Law Enforcement program to crack a cocaine ring. That bureau has since been replaced by the Drug Enforcement Administration.

The raids took place during a five-day period in April in the Southern Illinois communities of Collinsville, East St. Louis and Edwardsville. Law suits totaling about $2 million have been filed by the victims against the raiders.

Gifts Are Mainstay For Baptist College

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Dr. Ross L. Range heads one of the smallest and least expensive colleges in the nation and says it survives "on faith in the Lord."

In an era of spiraling costs of education, students at Lexington Baptist College pay only $100 a semester and far less if they carry less than a fulltime load.

"Other support comes from free will offerings, gifts from those who are in agreement with our beliefs. We never know how much will be coming in, but we have faith in the Lord that he'll keep us going," Dr. Range said.

Last year, for example, tuition and fees accounted for only slightly more than $10,000 while the college received more than five times that amount in contributions.

Lexington Baptist College began 23 years ago as a Monday night bible class and blossomed within three years into a fully accredited college offering a bachelor of arts degree.

"We had 103 students this past school year," Dr. Range said. "We don't place any stress on the number of students because we feel quality is more important than quantity."

While most of the students intend to become preachers, some will enter the world of business, education and other fields, Dr. Range said.

"We teach all the related subjects for the A. B. degree, not just the bible," he said. "But we major in the bible."

With so small an enrollment, Dean Rosco Brong said some classes have as few as two or three students.

For its first 18 years, the college operated from the Ashland Avenue Baptist Church, where the late Rev. Clarence Walker founded it while he was pastor there.

"Our new building is five years old and it's a miracle of the Lord, too," Dr. Range said.

"We did have to go into debt a little bit, but it was built by Christian men who weren't looking for a profit and did the work on a cost basis. What we have is a $150,000 plant and we had to go into debt less than $50,000 for it," Dr. Range said.

Except for the dean and his secretary, all of the faculty work on a part-time basis. "Most of them are pastors who teach part time and their sacrifice has kept us going," said Dr. Range, himself only a part time-president, an office that goes with the pastorate of his church.

The students come from throughout the United States and abroad, mostly hearing of the school through a weekly newspaper published by the church that operates it.

"It is the largest circulation of any church newsletter," Dr. Range said. "Each week, we print 97,000 copies and circulate them all over the world."

The school has never had unrest problems among students that have plagued campuses across the nation in recent years, Dr. Range said.

"We have pretty strict discipline, including the way students dress and the way they look. There aren't any specific rules, but a Christian attitude," he said. Students are forbidden, however, from marrying during the course of a school year.

Otherwise, Lexington Baptist College is a miniature of any campus anywhere. It has a 15,000-volume library "mostly donated to the school" and the usual lunch room.

"It is one of the few Baptist schools that still believes in the whole bible. It's a place where the bible is believed and taught," Dr. Range said.

Youth, 18 Crushed By Stage

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth caught underneath a hydraulic stage was crushed to death Sunday night in a grisly end to a day of religious services at the Cathedral of Tomorrow in suburban Cuyahoga Falls.

The Summit County coroner's office said Chester Roffe of Cleveland Heights was underneath the huge moveable stage when it was raised. But a spokesman said investigators hadn't determined why the youth moved below the stage in the first place.

The stage had been lowered to clear a movie screen for the showing of Johnny Cash's full length film on the life of Christ.

Cash, evangelist Kathryn Kuhlman and the Rev. Rex E. Humbard, the head of the Cathedral, keyed the morning, afternoon and evening services that drew thousands of church-goers Sunday.

The Cathedral declined comment after the death, but representatives said earlier that 8,000 jammed the morning services and 7,000 in the afternoon.

Loudspeakers were set up outside the church to handle the overflow crowd, the Cathedral said.

Both Miss Kuhlman and Cash were old friends of the Rev. Mr. Humbard, and their appearances ended a month-long celebration of his 40th anniversary in the ministry.

College Teaching Conference Pushed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Chancellor James A. Norton of the Ohio Board of Regents called for a state conference on improving college teaching.

Norton issued the request in a commencement address at Bowling Green University on Saturday.

Telephone Pact Eyed

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — The General Telephone Co. of Ohio was expected to respond today to a revised contract proposal presented by striking communication workers Friday, a company spokesman said Sunday.

Company spokesman Don Detweiler said company officials had been studying the new proposal over the weekend and would probably give the Communication Workers of America some reply during today's negotiation session.

Federal mediator Howard Hughes and union Vice President Martin Hughes refused to reveal details of the new contract proposal Friday. The union leader, however, indicated that the length of the proposal and the wage request were changed.

The wage dispute began July 16 when 2,800 employes walked off their jobs. The union was asking for a 10 per cent wage hike. The firm offered 7 per cent.

Spokesmen for General Telephone say the company has suffered $1 million in damages and loss of revenue since the strike started.

Clothesline Skeleton Brings Police

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Police rushed to the home of David J. Garvey Saturday after a pair of skeletal hands and feet hanging from a clothesline nearly set off a panic in the neighborhood.

Garvey, a student, said the skeleton was used to study anatomy. After unsuccessfully trying to donate it to a nearby university, he decided to clean it and hang it up to dry.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q) Several weeks ago, I left my summer job to return to school. I earned a total of $1700 from the job. I won't have any more income for the remainder of the year. Does this mean that I won't have to file in 1974?

(A) In general, if you are single, you don't have to file a return unless you made more than $2050. However, if income tax was withheld from your pay, your must file a return to have that tax refunded to you.

(Q) My husband works, and now that my two children are in their teens, I also plan to take a job. If I hire a maid to clean the house and keep an eye on the children when they are home, can I get a tax deduction for her salary?

(A) If your dependent children are under 15, you may be entitled to a deduction for amounts you pay a person for household services necessary to the operation of your home and for the well-being and protection of your children.

There are a number of limitations on the child care deduction. For instance, for a full deduction, you and your husband must not have more than $18,000 in combined income. For every dollar your income exceeds $18,000, your deduction is reduced by 50 cents. This means that if your income reaches $27,600, your deduction will completely disappear. For information on other limitations on the deduction, write your local Internal Revenue office for a free copy of IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care."

(Q) I've taken out thousands of dollars worth of life insurance on my wife and children. If something should happen to me, will the proceeds be included in my estate and will federal estate tax have to be paid?

(A) First, no federal estate tax is due if the value of the estate on the date of the death is $60,000 or less. Secondly, the insurance proceeds on your life are included in the estate only if they are receivable by the estate or by another for the benefit of the estate or you possessed an incident of ownership in the policy. This last requirement is especially important. It means that if you hold legal title to the policy or have the power to change beneficiaries, revoke an assignment, pledge the policy for a loan or surrender or cancel the policy, the proceeds of the policy will be included in your estate.

For more details, see IRS Publication 448, "A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation." It's available for 50 cents from your IRS district office or Government Printing Office bookstore.

(Q) I had to pay interest and a penalty for filing a late tax return. I know the interest is deductible. What about the tax penalty?

(A) Although the interest charged on tax payments is deductible, tax penalties are not.

Newsprint Shortage Ends Edition

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in 82 years, The Bellefontaine Examiner did not go to press Saturday. The reason—limited paper for printing.

Publisher T. E. Hubbard said another shutdown of the afternoon paper was likely this week.

Because of a delivers strike and resulting newsprint shortage, Hubbard said, "We've got two to three days' supply, and we decided that since Saturday is a light day, we'd lay off Saturday and come back Monday."

"We've got two carloads of newsprint in Canada, but there's the strike. We have hopes a truckload will get here from Canada, but we don't know about that and haven't heard," he said.

The newspaper's last shipment of paper arrived last June.

Another newspaper, The Sidney News, faced with similar shortages curtailed all promotion projects and planned to use stub-ends of rolls of colored paper for the insides of Saturday's editions.

Lucasville Gets Acting Director

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The acting superintendent who took over at the prison here last Wednesday told representatives of three guard unions Friday he would establish an advisory committee of officers to work with supervisors.

Bernard Barton was appointed by the department of correction and rehabilitation last week after W. J. Whealon resigned following nearly a year as warden at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility containing almost 1,000 inmates. The prison opened last September.

Since that time, the atmosphere has been tense including the shooting deaths of two guards in July.

Barton outlined the plan to the unions and said:

—Two officers will be posted in cell blocks where there is inmate movement.

—Selected officers will be given disturbance control training.

—Guards will be issued cigarette package-size alarm devices.

—Guard control centers in each cell block will be enclosed in steel and bullet-proof glass.

Barton said those guards who participated in a recent work stoppage would be disciplined and not negotiated with.

Large Crowd Views Atomic Buckeye 100

Atomic Speedway hosted visiting Dayton Auto Race Fan Club and a capacity crowd to racing at its finest at the "Buckeye 100" Saturday night.

Junior Smalley of Waverly proved that he is a good man for long distance runs Saturday night when he won his third 50-lap Super Sprint feature of the season at the Atomic Speedway, but not without a "king-size" battle from Spike Spears and Joe Frazier, both from Chillicothe, Ohio. Winding up behind Smalley were, Spears, second; Frazier, third; Larry McPeak of Parkersburg, W. Va., fourth; Rick Ungar of Belpre, fifth; and Charlie McCann of Piketon, sixth. The only interruption in the 50-lapper was on the 8th lap when Bob Carrico in car No. 3 spun out, causing no halts.

Super Sprint heat winners were: First, Dick Liskai, Gibsonburg; Junior Smalley, and Joe Frazier. Second, Rick Ungar, Belpre; Joe Frazier, and Larry McPeak.

George Branscom made it three Late Model features in a row, capturing Saturday night's 50-lapper for $500 and a trophy. Bob Crace of Chillicothe was second followed by Joe Teeters, Jackson, Steve Walker, Tarlton, and Mike Morgan, Portsmouth.

In the Late Model first heat race, Bud Newman, No. 27, suffered a bit of bad luck but no injuries. He was running in the first three when his car hit the wall in turn four, causing him to loose his steering. Jim Steele of Jackson claimed the win followed by Bob Crace, Larry Clark, and Bob Oney.

Second heat winner was Jim West of Reynoldsburg followed by Greg Hatfield, and Steve Walker.

The Dayton Auto Race Fan Club awarded jackets to the fifth fastest qualifiers in the Late Model division and Super Sprint division. Winners were: Joe Teeters of Jackson, Late Models, and Rick Ungar of Belpre, Super Sprints.

The Hobby Stock winner was Louie Robinson of Waverly, Ohio, his first feature win at Atomic. He was followed by Fred Payne, Circleville, Don Hinton, Laurelville, and Larry Brisker, Chillicothe.

Heat winners were: First, Louie Robinson, John Self, and Jim Taylor. Second heat, Ernie Budd, Fred Payne, and Don Hinton.

Atomic Speedway will feature the "Autoquad", a four-class event which was rained out on July 21. On Monday the final race of the season, the "Labor Day Championship" featuring two 50-lap features and one 30-lap feature.

Schroeder And Greene Golf Winners

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Last winter, Bert Greene was in a hospital in northern California with a gunshot wound in his right foot. Down the coast in La Jolla, John Schroeder had his left hand in a cast and was wondering if his brief career was over.

Both capped their comebacks Sunday with companion victories in pro golf's only doubleheader — Schroeder sweeping through a sparkling field of stars to the Match Play championship and Greene outlasting veteran Miller Barber in a five-hole sudden death playoff for the title in the L&M Open.

It was the first American victory for each, and they joined Hawaiian Open champion John Schlee as the only first-time winners on the pro tour this season.

"This is one of the greatest days — certainly the luckiest day — of my life," said Greene, a lean, 29-year-old veteran of seven years on the tour.

Greene's career appeared to be in danger last year when he accidentally shot himself in the foot. He had a pistol in his golf bag and the gun discharged while he was loading the bag in the car.

He picked up $20,000 from the total purse of $100,000 after dropping a six-foot birdie putt on the fifth extra hole. He and Barber had finished the regulation 72 holes tied at 278 — six-under-par on the 6,786-yard MacGregor Downs Country Club course.

The match play was on the same course, with the 27-year-old Schroeder beating graying veteran DeWitt Weaver 2-up in the final after disposing of Lee Trevino 1-up with a birdie on the 18th hole of the morning semi-finals.

Morgan, Reds Top Cards, 4-1

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the Joe Morgan doll. Wind it up and watch it go.

The diminutive Cincinnati second baseman was all wound up Sunday... and as a result, tied a major league record with a home run.

"That's the one I wanted," said Morgan, after his two-run homer helped the Reds beat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Morgan thus became the third player in baseball history to hit at least 20 homers and steal 50 bases in a single season. He has 55 steals so far this year.

Sharing the record with him are Houston's Cesar Cedeno and St. Louis' Lou Brock, who stole his 50th base of this season Sunday for another mark of distinction. Brock set a record of nine straight seasons of 50 or more steals, breaking Ty Cobb's record of eight.

Morgan's homer in the seventh inning helped the Reds break open a tight game. Fred Norman, the Cincinnati starter, won his 11th contest.

In the National League's other games, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-3; the San Francisco Giants edged the New York Mets 5-4; the San Diego Padres downed the Montreal Expos 4-2; the Atlanta Braves turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-6, and the Chicago Cubs trimmed the Houston Astros 4-2.

Rangers Take Pair From Tribe

By FRANK BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Rangers pitcher Jim Merritt beat Cleveland's Gaylord Perry at his own game Sunday.

The veteran Indians pitcher wasn't available for comment after his club was beaten 9-0 and 5-3, but Merritt made it clear that he had taken a page from Perry's new book, in hurling the three-hitter that beat the Cleveland right-hander in the first game.

"I threw about 25 Gaylord fastballs," said Merritt, using the nickname reserved for a Perry specialty — often called the spitball by frustrated hitters.

"We've been losing quite a lot of ball games lately," said the 29-year-old Merritt, "and I decided to try something new."

Buffalo Bills Lose To Bears; Dispute Sparked

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Buffalo Bills have a new 80,000-seat stadium but can't shake an old nemesis — losing.

The Chicago Bears handed the Bills their fourth straight loss 13-10 Sunday in a controversy-filled National Football League preseason game.

In Sunday's other NFL games, the New York Giants beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 29-24; the San Francisco 49ers punished the Denver Broncos 43-7 and in the only night action, the Green Bay Packers tripped the Kansas City Chiefs 21-16.

The Rich Stadium clock was inoperative throughout the second half and the officials on the field kept the official time with stopwatches, causing some problems.

The Bills were down 13-10 in the waning seconds of the game, but were driving toward the Bears' goal line. Then Dennis Shaw found J.D. Hill with a 50-yard bomb.

Chicago's Allan Ellis tackled Hill which led to the two players mixing it up as the officials permitted the clock to run out.

"We were told there were 16 seconds left by the judge on our side and now we find out there were only four seconds left," said Bills' Coach Lou Saban.

In another game the Giants gained their fourth victory in as many tries, going ahead early as New York safety Spider Lockhart intercepted a second period Terry Bradshaw pass and zoomed 42 yards for a touchdown, breaking a 3-3 tie.

Several minutes later, rookie Brian Kelley picked off another Bradshaw toss and went 30 yards for the score. Meanwhile, soccer-style kicker Pete Gogolak booted five field goals.

San Francisco scored two touchdowns before Denver completed an offensive play and had 40 points before the Broncos could dent the scoreboard.

Steve Spurrier threw TD passes to Gene Washington and Ted Kwalik while Bruce Gossett kicked four field goals to pace the romp.

MacArthur Lane rushed for one touchdown and threw for another while quarterback Scott Hunter added the Packers' third six-pointer in the Green Bay Packers' 21-16 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs.

Jan Stenerud kicked three field goals and Jeff Kinney scored on a one-yard TD plunge for Kansas City.

Saturday, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the New York Jets 13-10; the New England Patriots pounded the New Orleans Saints 31-6; the Minnesota Vikings trounced the Oakland Raiders 34-10; the San Diego Chargers defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 24-17; the Washington Redskins breezed by the Baltimore Colts 20-3 and the Cleveland Browns trimmed the Atlanta Falcons 20-17.

Thursday night, the Houston Oilers nipped the Dallas Cowboys 27-24.

Friday night, the Miami Dolphins stopped the Los Angeles Rams 17-14 and the Cincinnati Bengals beat the Detroit Lions 17-10.

Circleville Stars

Lose In Tourney

Circleville's Little League Major All-Stars dropped an 8-3 decision to River Oil Saturday in the Chillicothe Tournament.

The Roundowners finished third in a 30-team field and concluded play for the season.

Brad Woughby was on the mound for the local squad. He gave up 12 hits, four walks and struck out three. Adkins hurled the win for River Oil, allowing eight hits, and three walks while fanning 10.

Pat Poorman paced Circleville with a double and two singles, Scott Sanders rapped a double and single while Brian Sealock, Robbie Sark and Kevin Woltz each had a single. Steve Loel was the big hitter for River Oil with a home run and a single.

The winners tallied three runs in the top of the first inning, added four more in the second and one in the seventh. Circleville scored one run in the first and two in the second.

Judy Cook Winner Of Bowling Tourney

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Judy Cook, 28, a mother of two from Kansas City, has captured the $3,000 top prize in the $30,000 Professional Women's Bowling Classic.

She rolled a 202 game Saturday to defeat Lea Boxberger of Russell, Kan., who slipped to a 186 in the finals at a local television studio.

in two runs with sacrifice flies, giving Los Angeles a 7-3 decision over Philadelphia.

The victory gave the Dodgers a sweep of their three-game series in Philadelphia and kept them four games ahead of Cincinnati in the National League West.

Giants 5, Mets 4
San Francisco's Ron Bryant became the National League's first 20-game winner and Dave Kingman knocked in four runs with a homer and single in the Giants' 5-4 victory over New York.

"It's every pitcher's dream, a dream come true for me," said Bryant as his record reached the 20-8 mark.

Padres 4, Expos 2
A two-run homer by Dave Roberts snapped a tie in the ninth inning and carried San Diego over Montreal 4-2.

"My big pitch today was my curve ball," said San Diego's winner, Randy Jones.

Braves 8, Pirates 6
Dave Johnson became the major league's home run leader with 36, a grand slam shot that helped Atlanta beat Pittsburgh 8-6. Johnson took a step closer to Roger Hornsby's 42homer record for second basemen.

Cubs 4, Astros 2
Carmen Fanzone drilled three hits, including the game-winning single, carrying Chicago over Houston 4-2. "It was a weird feeling, getting to play the whole game," said Fanzone, who was subbing for regular third baseman Ron Santo.

Washington Redskins Again Eye Bowl Clash

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have the same goal this season as they did in 1972—a trip to the Super Bowl. Only this time, they're confident they will win the pro football championship game.

It's difficult to improve a team that wins 11 and loses only 3, the most victories in the club's history, and plays its way into the Super Bowl. But Coach George Allen believes he has been able to do it with some deals he made.

Allen filled a left linebacker vacancy, caused by the retirement of all-pro Jack Pardee, now a Redskins coach, with a trade for all-pro Dave Robinson of the Green Bay Packers and then kept Robinson from retiring.

He also swapped five players, none a regular last season, to the Houston Oilers for safety Ken Houston and tight end Alvin Reed. The importance of the trade showed early when safety Roosevelt Taylor and tight end Jerry Smith, both regulars, were injured in the preseason exhibitions and Houston and Reed took over.

Perhaps Allen's biggest deal came when he acquired the moody Duane Thomas from San Diego for two high draft choices and did just about everything he could to make him accepted by his team, the press and the fans.

Allen's trade for Thomas came as somewhat of a surprise considering he also has Larry Brown, the National Football League's most valuable player last season and one of the premier running backs in pro football.

Although fans envision a Brown-Thomas backfield, Allen has insisted they will not play at the same time; that he needed a quality running back to spell Brown after the physical beating he took last season in gaining 1,216 yards.

Allen also drafted Moses Denson, one of the top runners in the Canadian League, and still has Brown's blocking mate, Charley Harraway, to say nothing of the young speedster he picked up in a free agent camp last year, Herb Mul-Key.

One of the Redskins problems may be at quarterback where Bill Kilmer, who took the team into the playoffs and the Super Bowl in his two years, is expected to start although he has been booed soundly by the Washington fans in RFK Stadium.

The jeers, along with the many "I Like Sonny" bumper stickers, apparently are because Sonny Jurgensen has almost recovered fully from his torn Achilles tendon suffered last October.

Kilmer and Jurgensen, two veteran quarterbacks, rely mostly on the Redskins running game but have a superb set of pass receivers in Charley Taylor, Roy Jefferson and Smith. In addition, two new faces could make the team—rookie Frank Grant, a member of the taxi squad last year, and Paul Staroba, acquired in a trade with Cleveland.

The offensive line of tackles Terry Hermeling and Walt Rock, guards Paul Laaveg and John Wilbur and center Len Hauss, the same group as last year, allowed only 11 sacks of quarterbacks during 1972, the fewest in Redskins' history and second in the National Conference.

Defensively, the same line will see action—ends Ron McDole and Verlon Biggs and tackles Manuel Sistrunk and Diron Talbert.

In addition to Robinson, who is receiving tough competition from Steve Kiner, the Redskins have all-pro Chris Hanburger at right linebacker and Harold McLinton in the middle, backed by Rusty Tillman and Mo Potatoes, who held down the spot last season.

The secondary is one of the most respected in pro football. Mike Bass and veteran Pat Fischer are the cornerbacks with Brig Owens and Houston at the safeties.

The Redskins kicking game suffered during 1972 with Curt Knight hitting only 14 of 30 field goal attempts. His preseason record also has been terrible.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "I was just about hanging the front tire on the fence, but that's the only way I could keep it out of the outer wall."

A happy and exhausted Jack Bowsher, soaked with perspiration after driving 100 miles in the torrid cockpit of a Ford Torino, sat with beer in hand and savored his second straight U.S. Auto Club stock car victory.

Ohio Open Starts At Warren Today

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Bob Wynn won a third straight Ohio Open last year with a 10-under-par 278 total, but host pro Frank Cisterino doesn't expect that low of a score this time.

"We've changed a couple of tees and the rough's a little harrier," Cisterino said of the 72-hole tournament that began again today over the flat 6,675-yard Candywood Golf Club course.

Tolan, Management In Word Clash

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench said the Cincinnati Reds can't afford to let teammate Bobby Tolan's word war with management interfere with the pennant struggle.

"We have a job to do. This is Bobby's own personal problem. If it were an internal thing it might be different. We just have to keep putting nine men on the field and get after 'em," said Bench.

Tolan defied Reds' officials Sunday by ignoring a ban on entering the clubhouse and later challenged the club to remove him from the pressbox.

Tolan said he's "fed up with Cincinnati" and will refuse to apologize or pay a fine for a clubhouse incident.

He was fined $350 Saturday for a fiery argument with a high-ranking Reds' official and was later placed on the disabled list for 15 days.

The Reds said he would have to apologize to Sheldon "Chief" Bender for "insubordination and abusive language" before he could enter the clubhouse or join the team on the dugout bench.

He was fined $250 for the action and another $100 for missing a physical examination, the Reds said.

Bender, the team's director of player personnel, asked Tolan to submit to a physical examination. Tolan, who has been struggling with one of his worst seasons, said Bender told him that "all you care about is Bobby Tolan."

Bender then said, according to Tolan, "well, if you don't go you may not be on this club tomorrow."

"That did it," said Tolan. "Why threaten me?"

"I pushed him and he tried to get back at me," the Reds' outfielder said.

"I have not apologized and I am not going to," Tolan said. "It's all one-sided. I'm fed up with the way things are going in Cincinnati. I'm not talking about one person. It's management."

Tolan sat in the clubhouse prior to the game against St. Louis and later went to the pressbox.

Manager Sparky Anderson, aware of Tolan's presence in the lockerroom, said "I know he's there. But I'm not going to have him bodily removed."

"He has no part of this club as far as I'm concerned," said Anderson.

Tolan was the National League's Comeback Player of the Year last season. He hit .283 and stole 42 bases.

When a doorman informed Tolan he was not to enter the pressbox, he responded, "you tell management they can come and get me."

Reds' President Bob Howsam and his assistant, Dick Wagner, appeared in the pressbox, but neither approached Tolan, who viewed the game from a front row seat.

"He has his own ideas. It's his business," said Bench. "We didn't have a letdown after losing Dave Concepcion and there won't be one now."

"I'm sure he's very frustrated. I know how it is. I've been there myself," said Bench.

Essex Johnson Unworried By Size

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Essex Johnson, one of the last of the little backs in the National Football League, feels like a sardine in a sea of sharks.

He's ready to run for his life.

But the six-year veteran halfback for the Cincinnati Bengals shrugs off the trend that threatens to place him and other disappearing minibeasts on pro football's endangered species list.

It's simply survival of the fittest—and fastest, he says.

"It's just another fad," says the 5-foot-9 Johnson. "We little guys are going to be around for some time."

Johnson, who led the Bengals in rushing last year with 825 yards, sees it as mind over matter.

"If you're gonna last in this game, you've got to think positive—even if it's unrealistic," says the 26-year-old product of Grambling College.

"It's like the old man—Coach Paul Brown—says. If you can run, catch, block and tackle, there'll always be a place for you."

Johnson doesn't think of his size as a detriment.

"I make a smaller target. I don't take as much of a beating as the bigger guys because I duck under a lot of the blows. My high school coach always taught me to run low. Maybe that's why I've been nicknamed 'The Lawn Mower,'" he grinned.

Last year, his waterbug-like style carried him to his finest NFL season and earned him another nickname: The Essex Express.

Though he's seen limited action in Cincinnati's four exhibition games, Johnson's confident he'll have his old job despite talk of a switch to a big back backfield.

"I don't plan to play in relief. There'll be situations where we'll go with the big backs, but I'll be in there. I think I can do as much as a big back," says the bubbly 190-pounder.

Johnson has heard the negative doubts for years. They began in high school in Shreveport, La., when he dropped out of band to try out for the football team.

"I was always told I couldn't make it because of my size. I heard it so much it helped me make up my mind to do it. I wanted to prove something," said Johnson, who played most of the last half of 1972 with two broken bones in his jaw.

"There's no telling what I'll do now that I'm healthy. My head was really hurting last year," he said.

Johnson will be matched up against two of the NFL's remaining little backs this season—San Diego's Mike Garrett, also 5-foot-9, and Denver's Floyd Little.

Garrett raced for 1031 yards last year and Little, who topped the 1,000-yard mark in 1971, had 859.

"As long as you have the weight and the speed, you can make out in this league."

"We little guys can't bull over those big line-backers. We have to run around them. But if it's a do-or-die situation, I'll take them on," said Johnson.

Taiwan City Easy Winner Of LL Title

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Tainan City, Taiwan, left the Little League World Series with three consecutive no-hitters, six batting marks and the island's third consecutive world title.

There is no end to the explanations.

"The reason they won is that they are very good players," said team manager Chiu Sungnan through an interpreter. "Some of them are geniuses at playing baseball."

"They're a better ball club, just completely out of our class," said Ralph Lanik, manager of the Tucson, Ariz., team that lost 12-0 in Saturday's finale, getting just two men on base.

"There's no way they're that good following the rules."

Another manager accused the Taiwanese of forging birth certificates to fit its players into the 10-to-12-year-old age bracket. Several volunteer administrators claimed Taiwan violated Little League regulations on the size of league districts and the amount of practice time.

"I thought last year's team was perfect," said one U.S. official. "This year's is much better. It's not fair for our boys to compete with them. They don't have a chance."

Unknowns Dominate Trapshoot

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — It has been a tradition at Grand American Trapshooting tournaments that unknown shooters win the big handicaps, but that the stars of the sports dominate the other events.

This tradition was knocked in the hat at the 74th annual tournament that concluded Saturday.

True, unknowns did win the big handicaps, but relatively unknowns also took the other major titles.

For instance, the new Class AA champion is Larry McKinley, of Rich Hill, Mo., who has only been shooting a little over a year. McKinley is the Missouri state champion, but had never before won a national title.

The new Clay Target Champion of America is John Comly, Lambertville, N.J., who is 16 and had not won a major junior title.

After his victory it was stated that Comly was the youngest to ever win the major 16-year title in trapshooting.

A further check of the records, however, revealed that Kevin Onka, Sugar Hill, Mo., was 16 when he won in 1959, and actually a few months younger than Comly. Comly will be 17 on Tuesday.

Larry Gravestock, Amarillo, Tex., an established trapshooting star, did win the high overall by breaking 958 of the 1,000 targets thrown during the six days of competition. Even so, his score was the lowest to win the overall since 1948.

Western Fires Under Control

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The regional fire center in Boise, Idaho, says it will be a week to 10 days before the cost of the 52 major forest and range fires that blackened 200,000 acres can be estimated.

The last of the 52 major blazes was brought under control Saturday.

A spokesman for the Interagency Fire Center said there were thousands of minor blazes to be considered in any estimate of damage and firefighting costs in the Pacific Northwest.

Three firefighters died during the last two days of battling the blazes, raising to four the number of known fire-related deaths.

A spokesman for the Boise center said on Sunday that only 3,000 firefighters remained on duty, compared with more than 10,000 when the fires were at their worst.

About 140 workers remained Sunday at northeastern Oregon's Freezeout fire — the last of the major blazes to be contained — to watch hot spots and clean up. Most of the 1,000-person force was demobilized. The fire was controlled after it consumed 16,000 acres.

The Joseph office of the U.S. Forest Service in Oregon said the total cost of fighting the blaze would be more than $1.3 million with $650,000 spent in efforts in nearly inaccessible areas in the Snake River Canyon along the Oregon-Idaho border.

Some relief was expected as a weather front brought cool weather and a prediction of a few showers for the Pacific Northwest. A center spokesman said the current drought would continue, however.

Forestry officials said the fire danger in the region is the worst since 1934.

Court-Ordered Desegregation Busing Under Way In Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Court-ordered desegregation busing begins today for the approximately 40,000 pupils in the Memphis public schools, one of the South's largest school systems. Authorities expect it to go smoothly.

A May 13 order by U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. McRae Jr. calls for 155 buses to cover 508 routes. Starting times at the 140 schools involved will be staggered so buses can make multiple runs. The busing is expected to cost $1.6 million this school year.

Officials said they were prepared to cope with any difficulties. Seventy tactical police were on standby to augment motorcycle officers and police helicopters assigned to busing.

A control center was manned at school board headquarters, and Supt. John P. Freeman Jr. said the board's race relations specialists would be "at the schools where we feel they are needed."

Civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was slain in Memphis in 1968, and there have been riots here as recently as late 1971. But leaders of both races have predicted a smooth start for busing because of changed attitudes.

Maxine Smith, a black school board member and executive secretary of the city's branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said that aside from minor confusion, the beginning of busing would be "just another school day."

"Busing is no longer an issue," said Hunter Lane Jr., school board president. "It's a fact of life now, and we are trying to make it as painless as possible for the community."

The board has sponsored a busing-information program for parents since before an earlier McRae order under which 9,000 pupils in lower grades began riding buses in January. There were no initial problems, but trouble flared several days later at a few schools.

Pope Blasts Film Plans

CASTEL CANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says a Danish plan to film an erotic movie on the life of Christ is offensive to all Christians.

The Pope labeled the idea an "ignoble and blasphemous outrage."

"Where has the community conscience gone?" he asked Sunday in delivering his weekly blessing at the papal summer palace here.

Tentatively titled "The Love Affairs of Jesus Christ," the film is to be made in Southern France by director Jens Joergen Thorsen.

The Danish film institute has provided almost a third of the $330,000 budgeted to produce the film.

Director Ger Fredholm recommended the institute's backing and defended the movie saying it would deal with elements of modern society, such as changes in the church and evolution in standards of behavior.

Cyclamate Ban Reversal Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration will be asked later this month to reverse its 1969 ban on cyclamates, says Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt.

Abbott Laboratories will petition for the reversal and is expected to cite new research findings, Schmidt said in an interview. But he said the FDA will require "some harder scientific data

Letter Bomb Hurts Woman At Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secretary at the British Embassy was seriously injured today in an explosion. Officials said a letter bomb apparently was the cause.

The secretary was sorting mail on the sixth floor of the embassy, officials said. The explosion occurred about 9 a.m.

George Washington University hospital officials identified the victim as 51-year-old Nora Murray and said she lost one hand and that the other was seriously injured.

Police and embassy officials sealed off the building to keep out newsmen but employees of the embassy were permitted to go to their jobs.

There have been more than 30 such bombing incidents during the past month in London.

The secretary-general of the London stock exchange and his private secretary were injured Friday by a letter bomb mailed to the chairman of the exchange.

British officials have blamed the Irish Republican Army for the London bombings.

Religious Rock Festival Successful

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — What was billed as a drugless, boozeless rock festival ended that way Sunday night, without a single incident reported by the police.

"Rock of Ages 73" concluded at the Shelby County fair grounds here with a crowd of 6,500 on hand. "Tremendous," was the way Sgt. Earl Staley of the Sidney police department described the crowd.

"They went out of their way to cooperate," said Sgt. James Thompson of the Shelby County sheriff's department.

The total attendance for the three-day affair was estimated at 17,000, including persons from 39 states, Puerto Rico and nine foreign countries.

They were mostly young, but included a sprinkling of older persons. More than 30 musical groups from around the nation performed at the festival.

The event ended with an address by Dr. Victor P. Wierville, president and founder of "The Ways" a religious organization which sponsored the event.

Load Of Beef Abandoned?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — FBI agents and Cleveland police today were investigating the apparent abandonment of a truck loaded with beef in south Cleveland last week. Police said residents told them the truck had been parked along the street in front of a packaging company since Wednesday. Officers said the truck contained beef sides and hind quarters.

The FBI said the truck was from Des Moines, Iowa, and bound for Hartford, Conn.

Cub Pack Awarded Litter Drive Cash

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Cub Scout Pack 570 of Columbus won a $250 national award for a three-month anti-litter drive.

The group won its second consecutive citation for collecting 15,485 pounds of paper and 1,875 pounds of glass, planting trees and distributing litter bags to motorists.

The pack was one of 14 Boy and Girl Scout units in 11 states to be recognized in the annual Owens-Illinois Inc. environmental awards program.

Bicycle Stolen

George Detty, 209 W. High St., notified city police Sunday that his bicycle had been stolen.

than we've got now" before changing its mind about the cancer hazard of the food and beverage additive.

A decision is not expected for months, he said. He acknowledged that Abbott's new evidence may support the request to approve cyclamates again.

"I'm willing to accept the fact that data may come along that show that a lot of our decisions, in the light of new data, were unwarranted," he said. "In the light of old data they may very well have been warranted."

The agency's caution is heightened by the intensive review now underway on the safety of saccharin, the only non-nutritive sweetener remaining on the market and itself suspected of causing cancer in laboratory animal-feeding studies.

Federal law prohibits the use of any amount of a food additive that causes cancer in man or animals.

If a cyclamate approval followed on the heels of a saccharin ban, Schmidt said, "that would take a lot of explaining."

"I don't think we're going to do anything that we can't explain, and explain very well," he said.

Reviewing his first six weeks as commissioner, Schmidt said he plans to better educate the public, physicians and industry about "what we're doing and why we're doing it but, more importantly, the basis upon which we're doing it."

He expressed particular concern that the FDA may be infringing on individuals' freedoms, such as by regulating the composition of multiple-vitamin pills.

"I think that the FDA will have to be awfully careful about its science in justifying any action that would drive a product off the market," he said.

But he added that his concern about industry economics is secondary to what he regards as the FDA's primary role of protecting the public health.

Charge For Phone Assistance Planned By Cincinnati Bell

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Bell said Sunday it believes it is one of the first telephone companies in the United States to receive permission to charge for directory assistance.

The firm plans to begin the charge sometime "in early 1974 when equipment is modified to handle it" a spokesman said Sunday.

Permission came Friday night from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio as part of a $14.1 million rate hike package.

The rate increase went into effect Saturday. Home customers' bills will rise from $6.80 to $8.15 while commercial rates were hiked from $19 to $22.40 monthly.

The company said half the increases "will go for state and federal taxes."

Cincinnati Bell will allow each customer three, free directory assistance calls per month once the charges start. Each call after that will be 20 cents.

It will be 40 cents if the customer dials "0" for operator and is switched to directory assistance "because it involves two operators."

W. J. Whittaker said the firm sought the charges because 22 per cent of the customers are responsible for 87 per cent of such calls.

He said it was "unfair" to spread the cost of these calls to the rates charged other customers.

Cincinnati Bell did not report the cost of the calls now nor the amount of revenue expected once the charges begin.

There will be no charge for directory assistance calls from pay telephones or for people calling into the Cincinnati exchange from other areas.

Also exempt will be hotel and hospital lines and persons unable to use a directory because of a physical disability.

These persons must be certified to the company by a physician, however, the spokesman said.

John Born Jr., an employee of J. Born Floors, 114 W. Main St., is taking a two-weeks' course in resilient flooring installation at the Armstrong Cork Company's Installation School.

As part of the course, all students are conducted on a tour through the Lancaster Floor Plant to study the manufacture of linoleum, sheet vinyl flooring, and resilient tiles.

Local Grange Talent Get High Ratings

Saltcreek-Valley Grange entries in the Ohio State Grange Talent Contest received high ratings in the contest held Friday at the Ohio State Fair.

Randy Wolfe received a second place award for a piano solo "Il Trovatore." A duet entry of Neal Wolfe and Paul Dunkle also received a second place award. Each of these entries received a plaque for winning the district contest held earlier in the year.

A vocal solo by Paul Dunkle received a third place award. Randy Wolfe served as the accompanist for the vocal entries from Pickaway County.

Now kids can look it up in their OWN Funk & Wagnalls.

Volume 1
25¢

Volumes 2-20
$1.89
each

After 60 years of making encyclopedias for adults, Funk & Wagnalls has learned enough to make one for children.

It's called the Young Students Encyclopedia. And it's designed to do something more than just get them through the next homework assignment—to make them want to learn on their own.

Instead of burdening your children with tons of forgettable detail, it appeals to their native curiosity. The article on Airplanes, for example, illustrates an experiment children can perform at home showing how things fly. There are hundreds of other drawings, games and puzzles that not only teach but provoke, involve and entertain in the process.

In other words, it's an encyclopedia children will actually use. They'll also use it a long time.

It's designed to be simple enough for children just learning to read and comprehensive enough to serve until they're ready for an adult encyclopedia. They can't outgrow it the way they do shoes.

Which brings up another nice point about the Young Students Encyclopedia: It's intended exclusively to help children, but it helps grown-ups too.

First, it doesn't put much of a dent in your budget. Since it's sold direct to you through us, you can buy the complete 20-volume set a volume or two a week for only $1.89 each. And the first volume for the introductory price of a quarter.

Second, it helps prevent you from being the parent who has to explain to the teacher why your child's homework is incomplete. It's the answer to the problem of how to get your child to read and learn on his own.

We're Doing Our Level Best to keep our shelves and cases filled with a variety of foods to please our customers. Sometimes, due to current conditions beyond our control, we may not have certain items you want. Chances are, it's due to shortages created by nature's whims and Government-imposed price controls. Here's why.

During the June 13-July 18 price freeze, processors and retailers were prevented from paying farmers enough, even, to cover their expenses. Farmers were forced to cut back production or delay marketing some products. Many food processors curtailed or shut down their plants resulting in serious shortages.

Even though the price freeze was lifted on all foods except beef, future food supplies are unpredictable. As for beef, the short-term supply, at least, is particularly discouraging.

However, we at Kroger will continue to do our level best to bring you as wide a variety of food product at as reasonable a price as possible. Remember, we are only permitted to increase retail prices in relation to increased cost of raw agricultural products. Not a single cent of this increase represents additional profit for Kroger.

WE HEAR YOU
... and we're trying to help!

NOW! SEE THE FRESHNESS FOR YOURSELF

Consumers rightly expect the foods they buy to be fresh and good. That's why Kroger pampers and protects and rushes the foods we sell to stores at their peak of freshness.

Because we do take such care, Kroger is confident of the freshness of the foods we sell. That's why we can guarantee them on a replacement or money-back basis.

And that is why we open date foods for freshness. Some 1900 foods sold by Kroger now carry an open date... easy-to-read, such as AUG 30... to let you know the last day a product will be sold so it will stay fresh for an average usage period (or longer) after you buy it and carry it home.

For more than a year, Kroger has been open dating foods—everything from milk, eggs and bread to many items other grocers don't open date, such as jelly, snack crackers and peanut butter. Now that same service has been broadened to include pre-packaged fresh fruits and vegetables and fresh meats. They'll all carry the freshness date so you can see for yourself how fresh they are.

At Kroger, we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the foods they buy. We're open-dating more foods than just about anybody else in the country. This is one more Kroger service designed to help you—the consumer.

WE HEAR YOU
... and we're trying to help!
